The amendment dated 06/28/04 has been considered with the following results:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-4, 6, 8, 10, 11, and 13-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sugiura et al. (US 5,999,509).

Sugiura et al., according to Fig. 3, show an optical pickup comprising: first and second light sources (11 and 12); first and second optical path converters (21 and 22); a finite system objective lens (20) arranged next to the first and second optical path converters for focusing a divergent light beam from one of the first and second optical path converters onto one of relative thin disk (DVD) and a relative thick disk (CD), and a photodetector (30), as recited in claims 1, 11, 16, 23 and 24. Note: the objective lens (20) in Fig. 3 of Sugiura et al is interpreted as a finite system objective lens as recited in the claimed invention since it has the same function, which is for focusing a divergent light beam without the use of a collimating lens, as that disclosed in the present specification and recited in the claimed invention.

Regarding claims 2, 4, 17, 22, and 26, see elements 21 and 22.

Regarding claim 3 and 6, see column 5, lines 42-47.

Regarding claims 8, 13, 18, 19, 20, 21, 27 and 28, see the wavelength of 650 nm for a thin disc (DVD) and the wavelength 780 nm for a thick disc (CD) in column 5, lines 42-47.

Art Unit: 2653

Regarding claims 10, 14, 15 and 10, see objective lens (20), light path converters (21 and 22) and light sources (11 and 12) in Fig. 3.

Regarding claim 25, see Fig. 3.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-8 and 10-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over admitted prior art (Fig. 1) and in view of Sugiura (US 5,999,509).

The admitted prior art, according to Fig. 1, shows an optical pickup clearly including all features of the instant claimed invention except that in the prior art, an objective lens system including a collimating lens and an objective lens is used for collimating a divergent light beam from the light sources and focusing the collimated light beams onto a recording medium rather than using a finite objective lens system for focusing a divergent light beam from the light sources onto the recording medium without using a collimating lens. Sugiura, according to Fig. 3, teaches the use of a finite objective lens system (see lens 20) for focusing a divergent light beam from light sources onto a recording surface without using a collimating lens in order to reduce number of component in the optical pickup. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the optical pickup as shown by the admitted prior art by replacing a lens system including a collimating lens and an objective lens with an objective lens system as taught by Sugiura in order to reduce a number of components in the optical pick. For the features related to the optical path converters, see elements 30, 15 of the prior art or elements 21 and 22 of Sugiura et al. For features related to the light sources (see lasers 20, 10 of the prior art or laser 11, 12) of Sugiura et al. For feature related to a grating see element 25 in the admitted prior art. For feature related to a condensing lens, see lens 5 of the admitted prior art.

Response to Arguments

In response to Applicant's arguments filed 06/28/04, Applicant should note that the objective lens (20) in Fig. 3 of Sugiura et al is interpreted as a finite system objective lens as recited in the claimed invention because has the same function, which is for focusing a divergent light beam from one of the first and second optical path converters onto one of relative thin disk (DVD) and a relative thick disk (CD) without the use of a collimating lens, as that disclosed in the present specification and recited in the claimed invention. Also, Applicant's attention is drawn to column 6, lines 17-61, for the limitation related to correcting aberration. Applicant should note that the light beam produced from a wedge shape-beam-splitter-21 without aberration because the aberration has been corrected by the beam splitter (see respective disclosure of Fig. 5).

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
